

Static-99R Crossword

Across

5. Arrests that do not result in further action are considered equivalent to a _____
8. Creating this kind of "porn" to humiliate or embarrass someone is considered a Category "B" offence.
14. Individual knew the victim for less than 24 hours. This person would be considered a _____
15. Any male victim can be indicative of _____
16. Prowl by Night
20. This type of statistical analysis is used to compute recidivism estimates
22. Static-99R is an example of what kind of assessment tool?
23. How many items does Static-99R have?
24. Child abuse is an example of what kind of offence?
25. An individual is released and charged with a new crime that occurred prior to his recent incarceration

Down

1. Item 5. Prior Sex-offences is based upon Charges and _____
2. Last name of lead author of Static-99R
3. Non-contact sex offences can be indicative of _____
4. Four item risk tool that was a precursor to Static-99R
6. Men must be _____ years old upon release from their index sex offence to be scored on Static-99R
7. An individual offends against a sex worker who was presenting as a woman, but was born as a man. For scoring purposes, the victim would be considered a _____
9. Balance of Probabilities is also known as _____ of Evidence
10. Free informative videos on risk assessment are available on this video-sharing platform
11. Information derived solely from _____ interviews is normally not used to score Static-99R
12. Last name of the plucky first author of the revised age weights
13. This nine item tool by David Thornton was also a precursor to Static-99R
17. Items 8, 9, 10 use _____ information in scoring
18. Static-99R was made in what Canadian city?
19. Todd committed the index sex offence in 1996 and is charged and convicted for it in 2015. In 2004, he committed and was convicted for assault. This is an example of a _____
21. Individual's age in Item 1 is taken from what point in time?